Gale winds play no favorites here

The roaring wind that swept through the Panhandle Friday at speeds of up to 100 miles-per-hour played no favorites, taking with it a bit of everything.

In Canyon, trailers received the biggest blow but hardly any type structure or thing totally escaped the wrath. Trees, roofs, fences, storage sheds, billboards, windows, antennas, smokestacks, air conditioners, vents, trash cans all helped account for the damage that as yet has not been officially estimated.

One of the first casualties of the high wind Friday was the two-way radio antenna atop the Randall County Courthouse. It was about 9:30 a.m. that the tall metal tower fell across the roof to hang out over the lawn.

The sheriff's department and city police radios were silenced until about 2 p.m. when a makeshift antenna was installed. The radio problem was complicated further when the electric power was interrupted at the South Amarillo Annex, knocking the county's back-up radio station off the air.

Mobile homes at various city and area locations were picked up, blown over or otherwise destroyed. One was in the 1900 block of Hillcrest where a broken water pipe complicated matters by spraying a steady stream onto the overturned trailer.

At least three large mobile home units were demolished at Pioneer Village east of the city. One was slammed against a ditch embankment, another had its top blown away and left some 200 yards out in an open field.

Several units, including one large, new display model, were destroyed or heavily damaged at the Siesta Mobile Home Sales and Park north of Canyon.

Warner sales north of the city, which received considerable damage in a recent wind outbreak, lost another large unit Friday.

At one mobile home park inside the city, the only apparent damage was to a storage shed which was picked up and demolished.

Ideal Food Store on 23rd Street lost enough plate glass to cause closing of the store until damage could be repaired. After the windows were knocked out, several lighter sales items were scattered about the floor.

At Gibson's, also on 23rd Street, the wind sent a 25-foot smokestack crashing to the ground, knocking down a power line. Electricity in the area was out for a time until the power was restored.

The Tweedledee Shop at 1601 4th Avenue lost a plate glass window during the height of the gusts and a highway department crew was called in to clean glass from the street.

One of the oddities of the day was when one of the tall light standards at Kimbrough Memorial Stadium bent under stress of the wind. The other seven steel towers were not harmed but the one on the extreme northeast corner now resembles a catapult about to loose its projectile.

One homeowner in Southwest Canyon used rope to guy his neat row of small trees against the wind in hopes that they would not be uprooted or broken.

And all across the city, trash, paper and pieces of blown-away buildings clung to fences as if glued. And in other places, fences were blown down and unable to stop the flow of blowing debris.

Canyon volunteer firemen got a scare when a fire was reported at Taylor & Sons Food Store on 23rd Street at about 2 p.m. It was finally determined that the smoke was coming from a motor but for a time there was concern that should a fire exist, it would be all but impossible to extinguish in the high wind.

The area around Kimbrough Memorial Stadium on Interstate 27 was clouded by heavy dust most of the day Friday, making visibility near zero for drivers. No accidents caused by wind or dust were reported in the immediate area, however.

In South Amarillo, especially in the area around Coulter Road where Potter and Randall counties meet it was reported that dirt up to 18 inches deep collected in some garages.

A spokesman for the soil conservation service said the erosion caused by the wind was extremely costly throughout the area.

And for those who did not suffer major structural loss, it was still a bad day just getting out. Walking was difficult for most, hand-held items were in constant jeopardy and several hats and other headpieces joined

One of the light towers at Kimbrough Memorial Stadium appears to be "fading back to pass" after it was bowed by strong winds Friday. None of the other seven towers received similar damage.

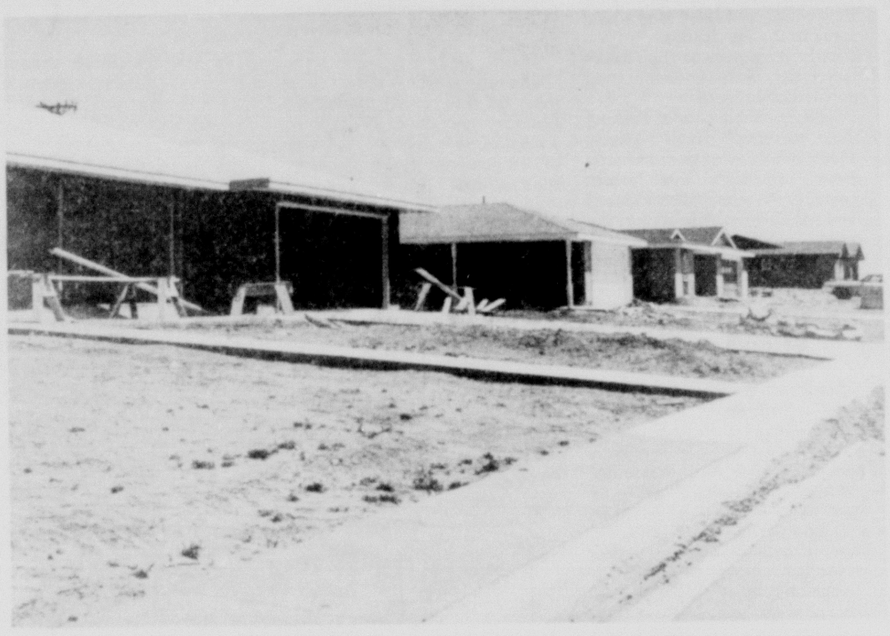
VOL. 4 NO. 33 | CANYON, TEXAS | SUNDAY, APRIL 22, 1973 | 12 PAGES 1 SECTION | 15 CENTS



The outskirts of Canyon are spreading out with new residential construction like the above in the Pioneer Estates area. Figures given by the building inspector show permits have been issued so far this year in amounts exceeding twice the figures for last year.

Canyon's growth shown by new residences

The rate of Canyon's growth evidenced by new construction starts and remodeling projects is picking up over the pace recorded for this period in 1972.

Figures kept by Building Inspector Blakley Fargason show that business and residential construction and remodeling projects for 1973 totaled $389,524 as of March 31, a strong increase over the $143,000 total recorded by March 31, 1972.

Residential building and improvement accounted alone for $326,150 of the total for 1973 through March 31. In 1972, the residential figure was $110,500 for the period.

In 1972, no commercial construction permits were issued for the first three months. In the first three months of 1973, a proposed new MacDonald's franchise accounted for $55,000. This total has been upped by a recent permit issued for a new Palo Duro Car Wash at 1201 23rd St. in the amount of $75,000.

The total figures also include amounts recorded in permits issued for building garages, small buildings, and additions.

The activity in residential construction is plain to see when one visits the outskirts of Canyon, particularly the Pioneer Estates, Creekmere, Hunsley Hills areas, and west part of town where the Davis-Hooper development is progressing.

Figures show that since April 1, $221,050 in residential permits have been issued, as compared

Historical Society fete postponed until May 10

The annual Panhandle-Plains Historical Society banquet and meeting scheduled for April 26 has been postponed until May 10 due to a conflict in schedules of Gov. Dolph Briscoe, guest speaker.

The announcement was made by Boone McClure of the museum and society based at West Texas State University.

Said McClure, "It is not the first time we have had to change the date to accommodate a speaker and when we have a speaker the caliber of Gov. Briscoe we are happy to do it."

According to McClure, no changes were made other than the date and all activities will be held as originally scheduled.

A business meeting will be held at 3 p.m. for the purpose of electing new officers and for the issuance of reports regarding the past year's work.

The banquet, open to society members and friends, will be in the East Dining Hall at WTSU and will begin at 7:30 p.m.

McClure said some 400 to 500 persons are expected to attend the banquet and to hear Gov. Briscoe.

The historical society is a private corporation with more than 800 individual members and at least 150 exchange members and subscribers.

Among subscriber members are such institutions as Yale, Harvard, University of Southern California, Southern Methodist University, the Masonic Lodge Library of Waco, and several foreign libraries and museums.

The May 10 meeting and banquet will be the 52nd such gathering for the organization which was founded in 1921.

Tickets for the banquet, at $3.50 each, are available at the Panhandle-Plains Museum and may be bought in person or by mail, or reserved by telephone.

District Attorney optimistic about state contribution

Randall County District Attorney George Dowlen, upon his return from Austin, voiced optimism that the state legislature would approve increased payment to criminal district attornies, a move that would annually save Randall County more than $12,000.

Randall County is one of seven Texas counties which have criminal district attornies whose salary is paid primarily by the county. Constitutional district attornies, as are found in most counties, are paid up to $15,000 annually out of state funds.

The state now pays only about $2,500 toward the salary of Randall County's district attorney.

The increase in state payment would not increase Dowlen's salary but it would decrease the amount being paid by the county.

According to Dowlen, he and several other criminal district attornies appeared before the senate committee in Austin in an effort to expedite the measure. He said the bill was passed by the committee and will now go to the floor of the house and to the senate.

"I expect it to go to the floor for action in early May," Dowlen said.

Identical bills were drawn up for both the house and the senate, Dowlen said, eliminating the need for joint conferences that might have stalled the measure.

Dowlen said he also did some work regarding the pending Penal Code while in Austin. "I found no changes in the status of the code," he said of the revision

WTSU may get $300,000 in additional state funds

The president of West Texas State University said Saturday the state Senate will give special consideration to an additional $300,000 in the institution's appropriation.

Dr. James P. Cornette said that amount is proposed for the first year of the biennium. The Senate is expected to take up the appropriation bill for higher education upon return from the Easter break Tuesday.

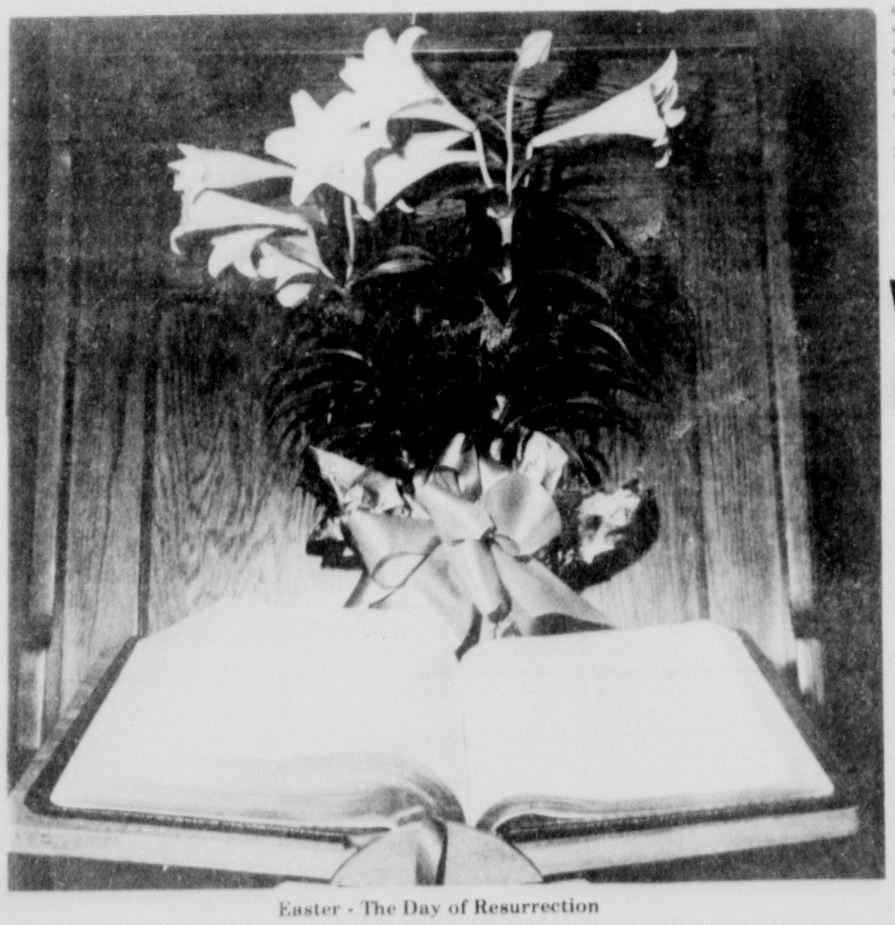
Cornette said Sen. Max Sherman of Amarillo was responsible for including the $300,000 in the Senate bill to help the university counterbalance revenue lost through enrollment decreases the last three years.

The president said the Senate bill also includes items calling for $75,000 for each year of the biennium for library books and $65,000 for street repairs on campus.

West Texas State is building a new library for which $200,000 for books was being asked of the Legislature. The funds for street repairs were requested because of damage done by the recent severe winter.

Cornette said that Sherman, working with Sen. A. M. Aikin Jr., of Paris, was able to get the additional funds included in the Senate appropriation bill when they were not part of the House bill. Aikin is chairman of the Senate Finance Committee and Sherman is a committee member.

"These figures have prevailed within the conference committee and we hope they will remain part of the appropriation for the university," Cornette said.



Easter - The Day of Resurrection

'Meat Appreciation Week' gains local, area support, no activities slated here

Meat Appreciation Week got under way Saturday with the agriculture industry of Randall County apparently standing firmly in accord with Panhandle area meat producers.

According to Randall County Agent John Brazzil, no activities have been planned for Canyon or the southern portion of the county "but a lot of us are taking part in the Amarillo activities."

Brazzil described the MAW activities as being centralized in Amarillo with many area people and organizations taking part. "It apparently will involve the total (agriculture) industry," the county agriculture official said.

In Canyon Wednesday, Randall County Judge Woody Pond signed a proclamation citing Meat Appreciation Week, and on Friday Canyon Mayor J. Manly Bryan performed a similar act on behalf of the city.

Also supporting MAW in the Canyon area are the Canyon Chamber of Commerce, The Randall County Commission, Randall County Farm Bureau and the Happy CowBelles, a group of women who have taken several steps to prevent any rollback in the price of meat.

Agent Brazzil, talking of the current meat situation, said the recent boycott of meat had done little other than to focus tremendous attention on agriculture in general and the beef industry in particular.

He added that he did not feel that the boycott had brought about any major trends in beef production due to the length of the normal "beef cycle." Brazzil said the current tremendous demand for beef, coupled with a short supply, was the problem now.

"It's a problem that only time and understanding will solve," Brazzil said. "And most people not close to the industry do not understand it."

According to Brazzil, the agriculture industry has the resources, the technology and the desire to produce the amount of beef people want. "As long as we can have even a little margin of profit to operate on, we'll do it."

Brazzil said he believed the present shortage of meat was only temporary, a condition brought about by many reasons. And the increase in operational costs is up for the meat producer just as it is for everyone else, the county agent said. "There is no whipping boy in the entire industry."

Brazzil called meat a good bargain at current prices and he cited great price increases in other consumer items over the years. "People have the ability to buy beef and they are buying," he said of the desire to have the good, wholesome quality meat now available. "We are producing the best quality meat the world has ever known."

Speaking of increased cost of meat production, Brazzil noted that producers are now paying much higher prices for feed, medication and other production necessities.

"Give us a little time and the supply will be there. . .the farmer wants to produce and all he needs is a market and a fair return. You don't push a button and solve this like in a factory," Brazzil concluded.

Meat Appreciation Week, which began Saturday, runs through April 28 which has been designated Meat Appreciation Day.

Canyon Mayor J. Manly Bryan joined other area officials during the past week by signing a proclamation calling for support of the meat industry during Meat Appreciation Week. Watching the signing is Joe Turpin, president of the Randall County Farm Bureau.

This mobile home destroyed at Pioneer Village east of Canyon was typical of a dozen or more hit by hurricane-like wind Friday. No official damage estimate for the city and area has been made but some sources say the figure could reach $250,000.

Our World

Boycott, Controls Are Foolish

By ANN BROWN

The beef boycott and the proposed price controls are as foolish as they are cruel and unfair. Any time we take away our neighbor's freedom, we endanger our own.

If the cattlemen cannot make a profit they cannot raise beef. Without beef we will be deprived of much of our favorite food.

(Would we like to join the English in a diet of "fish and chips?")

If there is anyone who works harder for longer hours with more risk than the farmer it is the rancher.

The average rancher goes broke at least once every 20 years. And he usually survives on the mercy of his banker.

The cattleman thrives on the hope of a good year occasionally. When that time does come, how can the people who have lived on his bounty during the lean years justify a boycott or price controls?

If one cannot afford beef — or does not want it — that's one thing, but to join a movement to deliberately crush the hand that feeds him is something else.

Any free market place will eventually solve its own problems.

Monopolies in the business world are illegal in our country because they prevent free competition. Aren't boycotts, strikes, and price controls attempts to eliminate free competition?

Everything consumed must first be produced. A man must either produce his own food, or buy it or steal it.

How can "honest" Americans, who want all thieves behind bars, expect to eat beef for less than it costs the producer? If a boycott forces the price of beef below cost of production, are the consumers not stealing it?

Everything has its place on our list of priorities. But we are often unaware of the place an object holds as long as it is there.

We think of water as being cheap and of little value — if we have plenty of it. But any time it is unavailable it becomes first on our list of priorities.

This rich Plains area that is now the breadbasket of Texas was once reputed to be the great American desert. Why? No water.

Food appears to have found a low place on Americans' list of priorities simply because it has become plentiful and relatively cheap.

But who made food cheap and plentiful? The American farmers and ranchers who work longer hours for less pay than any other group in the nation.

When food becomes scarce one is immediately made aware that it occupies second place only to water on the priority list.

Food is not just a necessity; it is a pleasure. When friends or relatives congregate, what is the hostess' first consideration? Food. The more important the occasion, the more sumptuous the food.

Farming and ranching is a way of life that many people prefer. But if they cannot earn a living producing food, they will be forced to abandon the land. Then who will feed us?

Agriculture has become big business for the same reason the oil and automobile industries have flourished: profits. And in our agricultural economy, what's good for agribusiness is good for all of us. We destroy it at our peril.

Who ever heard of coffee, cigarettes, or liquor being boycotted because of price increases?

It is the wise shopper who wields the most influence. Ingenious Americans will always find ways to trim excess profits in a free market.

The various individuals and groups who have rallied to the support of the cattlemen are to be commended for their wisdom, courage, and integrity.

Everyone who appreciates good food should express gratitude where it counts — in the market place.

Seemingly "Unfair" Not Always So

By CARROLL WILSON

There seems to be a general gut-level response when folks hereabouts hear a governmental entity financed by taxpayer money is tampering in any way with free enterprise.

That gut-level response has reared its head in Canyon primarily over the fact that the city's new hospital, yet to be built, will have as an integral part of its structure office space for local doctors.

The initial response is negative.

Doctors, the argument goes, make three or four times the annual salary of average hard-working citizens. Why, then, should they be subsidized to a great extent by taxpayer money providing office space in a taxpayer-owned hospital? Why should doctors, whose annual salaries rank well into five figures, be given facilities which will just allow them to make more money?

A farmer, for example, using this argument would ask "if taxpayer facilities are going to be provided for the doctors, why won't the county go out and build me a barn?"

The argument might have its points, if it were based in fact. After talking with Ray Grimes, hospital administrator at Neblett Hospital, about the inclusion of doctor facilities in the new hospital plans, I'm fairly convinced the above argument will hold no water.

It's important to remember, at this point, that Grimes has built his own personal reputation as an administrator on his ability to keep Neblett operating in the black year after year. His reputation is very much at stake in the new hospital and his challenge is to operate a county hospital which makes money.

And to more than break even is certainly Grimes' goal. He faces, after all, large payments on the financing of the new hospital.

With his experience in operating Neblett, which provides office space for four doctors, Grimes is convinced that providing office space for doctors in the new hospital is one sure-fire way of making money.

Apparently conditioned to being asked his rationale for including doctors' facilities in the new hospital, Grimes is quick to pull out ledger sheets and projections of income and expenditure to back up his position.

Resident doctors, Grimes shows in his black-and-white figures, bring in a good deal of money each year to a hospital.

That money comes in primarily through out-patient laboratory work and out-patient x-ray work.

In fact, in 1971 at Neblett, out-patient lab and x-ray work brought to the hospital through its resident doctors made more money for the hospital than the in-patient lab and x-ray work.

Grimes says flatly that money made through those two areas will mean the difference between a black and a red balance in operation of the new hospital.

In addition, there is no factual basis in the statement or the implication that the hospital will give hospital space for doctors' offices.

Doctors will lease the space—and for a tidy sum. This again, is income, vitally needed income in today's hospital market.

Grimes believes that income through the laboratory and x-ray out-patient care would be lost, were doctors not directly officed in the hospital. They would, he believes, open their own x-ray and lab facilities.

Naturally, they would put their lease money in buildings of their own and that income would be lost.

This is all not to deny that an arrangement in a hospital which allows for the officing of doctors is not convenient for the doctors. Of course it is.

But, in cold, hard figures, the question must really be—can we afford not to provide office space for doctors in the new hospital?

Some interesting facts about your taxes:

About one dollar of every three earned by the average citizen is now used for taxes.

The average American spends two hours and 34 minutes of his eight-hour working day earning the money to pay his combined local, state and federal taxes.

There's no end in sight. I'm backing Dolph Briscoe in his policy of no new taxes this year.

There's been some grumbling around town about the forthcoming Meat Appreciation Day dinner in Amarillo, a gala event thought up by three Amarilloans and backed by resolution locally by county commissioners and the chamber of commerce.

The grumbling is over the way the meat appreciation day has evolved.

Originators of the idea, it seems, received a lot of publicity a couple of weeks ago when they presented their proposal, saying they would feed everybody who'd come to the big dinner.

Only problem was they didn't have the beef to fulfill their promotional image.

Now, it seems, they're making the business circuit asking businessmen, always hard hit by every campaign that comes along, to buy and donate a side of beef or a whole beef for the dinner.

It's rankled a few with just cause.

Notary Public Filing Dates Set

Commissioned Notaries Public who desire re-appointment for the new term which begins June 1 of this year and ends June 1, 1975 must pay the required fee and file a new oath and bond with the County Clerk during the first 15 days of May.

Randall County Clerk LeRoy Hutton said this week that any person not now a Notary Public who desires appointment for the beginning of the next term should apply at his office before May 14.

The required application forms are available at the County Clerk's office.

According to state law, all applications for re-appointment or first time appointment must be made through the local County Clerk's office, and not sent directly to the Secretary of State.

Latest figures from Austin indicate that there are more than 195,000 Notaries Public in the state, with 480 of these in Randall County.

Death May Be An Acceptable Excuse

By JIM SANDS

One of the handy things about writing a column is that you do not always have to think. Sometimes, when no idea comes to mind or when time runs short, you can borrow or steal material. . .as I have done this week.

The following was provided by one of the gals who slings the type together here at The News.

NOTICE

It has been brought to my attention that the attendance record of this office is a disgrace to our gracious benefactor, who, at your own request (in some cases), has given you your job. Due to your lack of consideration for your job with so fine an organization, as shown by frequent absenteeism, it has become necessary for us to revise some of our policies. The following changes are in effect as of today:

SICKNESS: No excuse. . .

We will no longer accept your doctor's statement as proof as we believe if you are able to go to the doctor, you are able to come to work.

DEATH: (other than your own). . .

This is no excuse. There is nothing you can do for them and we are sure that someone else with a lesser position can attend to the arrangements. However, if the funeral can be held in late afternoon, we will be glad to let you off, one hour early, provided that your share of the job is ahead enough to keep the job going during your absence.

LEAVE OF ABSENCE: (for an operation). . .

We are no longer allowing this practice. We wish to discourage any thought that you may need an operation as we believe that as long as you are an employee here, you will need all of whatever you have and you should not consider having anything removed. We got you as you are and to have anything removed would certainly make you less than we bargained for.

DEATH: (your own). . .

This will be accepted as an excuse but we would like a two-weeks notice as we feel that it is your duty to train someone else for your job.

Also, entirely too much time is being spent in the restroom. In the future, we will follow the practice of going in alphabetical order. For instance, those whose names begin with "A" will go from 8:00 to 8:15. "B" will go from 8:15 to 8:30, and so on. If you are unable to go at your time, it will be necessary to wait until the day when your time comes again.

16 Accidents In County In March, 1 Fatal

The Texas Highway Patrol investigated 16 accidents on rural highways in Randall County during the month of March, according to Sergeant Jack Crownover, Highway Patrol supervisor of this area.

These crashes resulted in one person killed and three persons injured.

The rural traffic accident summary for this county during the first three months of 1973 shows a total of 36 accidents resulting in two persons killed and 12 persons injured.

The rural traffic accident summary for the 60 counties of the Lubbock Department of Public Safety Region #5 for March, 1973 shows a total of 468 accidents, resulting in 19 persons killed and 263 persons injured as compared to March, 1972 with 420 accidents, resulting in 23 persons killed and 218 persons injured. This was 48 more accidents, 4 less fatalities and 45 more injured in 1973, at the same period of time.

The veteran officer reminds you that springtime is approaching, the weather will clear up, but the highways will become more congested.

The 19 traffic deaths for the month of March, 1973 occurred in the following counties: Four in Gray and Moore, two in Hale, Terry, Hall and Potter, and one in Wise, Hutchinson, and Randall.

Liquor Ruling Again Delayed

Randall County Judge Woody Pond Wednesday afternoon again delayed a decision on the granting of a liquor license for a package store in South Amarillo.

Judge Pond said a delay of nine days in making the decision had been granted at the request of an individual interested in the outcome.

Granting of the license had been protested during two public hearings by residents of the area immediately surrounding the proposed location at 34th and Wimberly in Amarillo.

The protesting residents cited the closeness of an elementary school and the possibility that their property value would decline.

The request for the license was made by R.C. Hamblin of Amarillo who wants to open a Judge Roy Bean's Liquor Store at the location.

After granting the delay, Wednesday, Judge Pond said, "I have to make a ruling according to the law. . .not according to my own personal feelings."

Pond added that the individual had a legal reason for requesting the delay.

Palisades Palaver

By MILDRED TURNER

WHEN I RETURNED from church Sunday night there was a message that Mrs. Fowler had passed away. The Palisades ladies cooked covered dishes to take to Amarillo where Mr. Fowler and the family were gathering. Lena Edwards, Reba Guess and I took these in Monday afternoon, visiting Mr. Fowler briefly. I understand Mrs. Fowler had been hospitalized about a week before she passed away. The Fowlers have lived in the Palisades several years. Whether in town, at the mail box, or down on the creek fishing, they were always together. We shall miss her and we all pray for God to strengthen and comfort Mr. Fowler always.

LUM AND LENA Edwards have been sick with the flu but are on the mend now.

FRED WILLIAMS IS in High Plains for some tests and I have not heard since Monday how he is.

JUDY AND GENE Webb, Joyce and Paul McDonald, Clay and Chris Lindsey have discovered a good place called "Cross Timbers" just off I-40 East to eat steak.

I DO BELIEVE Cleo Farr specializes in lovely daughters. I met another one, Cleta Reed, this week. I have met Kathy Fleming some time ago.

TO GIVE AWAY: Lucious, full grown dandelion plants, ready to be transplanted, lots of yellow blooms, white balls ready to blow. 622-0701.

THE DOYLE TRIMBLES were by this week and you should hear them "brag" on their grandson, so gave me a good chance to "brag" on mine. Perhaps we can get these kids together to play in the sand while we have a cup of tea. Some one at church said "Doyle sure sings well."

HEARD THAT BOBBY Walker has been attending school in Little Rock, Arkansas. Although the extra schooling helps him on his job, Jo Delle says she sure misses him. This community misses him also.

ESTELLE TOLD ME Tuesday that Onnie's mother and dad were snowed in at their house. Also, June told of Stan's and Mike's ordeal in the blizzard. After calling to let their parents know they were leaving work (Furrs on Osage) they started home in the face of the blizzard. The Hookers waited anxiously for ages, decided to go to meet the boys. After several vain attempts to get out of the canyon, they returned home to walk the floor. Meanwhile the boys, after they buried the car in the snow, walked an estimated five or six miles, arrived half frozen at the Glenn's (Palisades Rd.) and called the Hookers. D.L. Brackeen took his scout and brought the boys safely in around 1:30 or 2 a.m.

HAD A PLEASANT surprise recently at one of our Stitch and Sew classes. A tall slender young lady came in and I kept looking at her big brown eyes, thinking I've known her somewhere. At break I introduced myself and she said she was Shirley Payne of Umbarger. I remembered a little brown eyed girl about ten years old who belonged to the R.B. Elliotts near Happy. She visited with Garland's little sister, Ruth, often. Garland was working for Mr. Elliott and dreaming of being a farmer. We did farm on our own after the war down near Turkey (but that is a different story).

I KINDA KEEP up with Willa and Si Elliott through home demonstration club and the Happy News. I'm still a farmer at heart but do most of it in planters and pots (looks like a jungle around here). Shirley lost her dad some time back but her mother still lives down on the farm near Happy. I remember the Elliotts as a very happy family and one of these days when I'm in a roaming mood, I would like to go visit Mrs. Elliott. It would surely be nice if Shirley and her family happened to be there also.

INSTEAD OF A new Easter bonnet with streamers I'm getting a new septic tank with lateral lines!

SOMETHING EXCITING HAPPENED this morning at 6:30 in Palisades Park. Everyone in the whole community was invited to a Sunrise Worship Service. One of our own kids, all grown up, married and called to the ministry brought the message. I had not heard Doug Hooker yet, so I enjoyed it. There was a time of fellowship, coffee and doughnuts afterwards. I got so elated just to see the sun rise in all its radiant splendor and to enjoy all this with our friends and neighbors. It was a very special affair.

Buffs To Don Pads After Easter Break

After taking a week off for Easter vacation, West Texas State's football team swings back into action Tuesday for one more week of spring practice.

The Buffaloes climax their spring training with a 7:30 p.m. final game Saturday in Hereford. Tickets for that game are being sold by members of the Hereford Kiwanis Club at $1.50 for adults and 75 cents for students.

This will be the third live action session of the spring for the Buffaloes of coach Gene Mayfield. They had two scrimmage sessions prior to the Easter break.

The fruits of the coaching efforts bloomed in the final scrimmage session before the Easter break, Saturday a week ago. The coaching staff had been working hard during the spring drills in order to improve the Buffalo passing attack.

The passing game, led by quarterbacks Bob Sweat, Mike Wartes and Don Nava, and a host of receivers, resulted in 31 completions in 51 attempts. The defense was able to intercept only one of the passes.

Sweat threw for the only two scores by air, hitting split-end Kenneth Sellers for a pair of touchdowns.

Coach Mayfield and his staff will divide the team later this week for the final spring game. The game will probably match the first team against the second team and reserves for both teams will come from the remainder of the squad.

All Sports Banquet Set For Next Week

The Canyon All Sports Banquet will be held Friday, April 27, in the junior high school cafeteria beginning at 7 p.m., sponsors said this week.

Elton Cox, president of the Eagle Booster Club, sponsor of the annual fete, said athletes of various sports at Canyon High School would be recognized for their participation during the past year.

Cox added that there would be no guest speaker this year.

In addition to naming the Most Valuable Athlete in the various school sports, the Football Queen, and Basketball King and Queen will be crowned.

One highlight of the night will be the naming of the winner of The Fighting Heart Award, presented each year to the athlete who has shown the most courage and determination while taking part in competition.

The Eagle Booster Club will also install new officers during the banquet ceremonies.

Admission is $3 for adults and $2 for non-athlete students. All school athletes will be admitted free as guests of the booster club.

Tickets are available from Cox, Mrs. Bill Counseller, Mrs. Bob Ratliff, both Canyon banks and Canyon High School.

According to Cox, some 350 to 400 persons are expected to attend. The meal will be catered by Sutphen's of Amarillo.

Ramsey Services Held Friday

Funeral services for Albert Jackson Ramsey, 69, of 1600 6th Avenue, were held Friday afternoon at the First Baptist Church in Canyon.

Mr. Ramsey was dead on arrival Wednesday at Neblett Memorial Hospital after he apparently suffered a heart attack while mowing a neighbor's yard.

Services were conducted by Rev. Bill Foil, pastor of Canyon First Baptist Church, and by Rev. J.L. Huggins, pastor for the First Baptist Church of Hereford.

Burial was in Dreamland Cemetery under direction of LaGrone Funeral Chapel.

Active pallbearers were Murphy White, Felix Pierce, Ocie Chism, Alfred Smith, Shirley Smith and Robert Strain.

Honorary pallbearers were members of the RN&O sunday school class of First Baptist Church, of which Mr. Ramsey was a member.

Mr. Ramsey was born at Gainesville, Tex., and was married to Dorothy Thompson on Dec. 14, 1924 at Plainview.

He moved to Canyon from Dawn in 1964, and retired from farming in 1969.

Survivors include the wife, of the home; one son, Scott of Clovis, N.M.; one daughter, Mrs. Christine Lee of Alamagordo, N.M.; two brothers, Lee of Amarillo and C.J. of Oklahoma City; three sisters, Mrs. Cora Lain of Lubbock, Mrs. Nancy Mayfield of Clovis, and Mrs. Beulah Anderson of Stockton, Calif.; and two grandsons, Jack Lee of the U.S. Navy, and Joe Lee of Alamagordo.

Mrs. Hazel Hawthorne, Canyon Division student of The Opportunity Plan, Inc., scans the program of the Rocky Mountain Social Science Convention where she will speak this week. Her trip is made possible through contributions like that recently given by Noon Lions Club, represented here by President John Boone. Mrs. Hawthorne's daughter Holly, 10, looks on.

OPI Student To Present Paper

A $200 contribution to The Opportunity Plan, Inc., can sometimes go a long way.

And a recent check for that amount from the Canyon Noon Lions Club just happens to be the amount needed by Canyon Division student Mrs. Hazel Hawthorne to go all the way to Laramie, Wyo., this week.

Mrs. Hawthorne, graduate student in sociology, has been invited to read a research paper at the Rocky Mountain Social Science Convention April 26-28 in Laramie, an honor not often bestowed on undergraduates.

Entitled, "Romeo and Juliet Meet the County Court Clerk," the study deals with Texas laws and practices concerning "informal marriages." Mrs. Hawthorne undertook extensive research and correspondence techniques through various channels, including the Bureau of Statistics, the office of the attorney-general, various senators, probation officers, and related documents.

Hazel is one of three students currently sponsored by The Opportunity Plan, Inc., through the Canyon Division. The Lions Club's recent contribution is only one of several which have recorded them the largest financial supporter of the local division. John Boone is president.

Three years ago Mrs. Hawthorne brought a friend of her son's to OPI for financial aid to attend WTSU. She little realized that she would later be calling on The Opportunity Plan, Inc., for her own assistance. She was attending WTSU then for the "pure enjoyment" of it.

However, the sudden death of her husband in 1972 left the former airline stewardess with little means for supporting her two minor children or for continuing school at WT. She could complete her degree requirements, however, with a minimum of financial assistance.

She was the second student accepted for sponsorship by The Canyon Division last summer. She realized, that further education could qualify her more ably to become completely self-supporting, and she continued in graduate studies. She has an overall grade point of 2.2, and was recently initiated into the WTSU chapter of Pi Gamma Mu, national social science honor society. She is busily continuing to brush up and up-date her study for presentation.

"I am very proud and grateful for my own sponsorship by The Opportunity Plan," she smiles, "for I have known so many students whose lives have taken on new meaning due to the help given them by OPI."

Bob Moore Gets Ecology Certificate

The official State Health Department's certificate of competency for ecology workers has been awarded to Bob D. Moore of 2520 8th Ave., Canyon, Texas.

Moore is employed by the City of Canyon as an ecology worker. He has been taught effective ways for producing safe drinking water and treatments to make wastewater into clean streams for public use.

This training from the Texas Water Utilities Association, the largest water and wastewater training school in the United States, has produced clean streams and better operated water facilities than any other section of the country.

To receive the certificate, he has completed both a formal and a specialized education, accumulated a prescribed amount of actual work experience, and passed the examination given by the State Health Department's Sanitary Engineers.

The growing need for clean water has made the water ecologist one of the most important workers in his community.

Andy Devine To Star In "My Three Angels"

Andy Devine, star of motion pictures, television, radio and stage, will arrive in Amarillo April 26 for a week of rehearsal prior to opening in the Amarillo Little Theatre production of MY THREE ANGELS, premiering May 3.

The production, a comedy-farce by Sam and Bella Spewack, is under the direction of ALT managing director Peter Fox, Jr. The May 3 opening will be a special Gala Night. Succeeding performances will be May 4-5; May 9-13; and May 15-16. Curtain time is 8:15 p.m. with the exception of a Sunday matinee at 2:30 p.m. May 13. Box office opens April 25, and reservations may be made by calling 355-9991 or by writing ALT, Box 2424, Amarillo, Texas 79105. Tickets will be available at the door and are priced at $2 for students and $4 for adults.

The scene for MY THREE ANGELS is set in French Cuianam, where the Ducotel family hires three fugitives from justice to do a roofing job. An unpleasant cousin comes to oust Felix Ducotel from the business he has botched, bringing with him a nephew who is engaged to the Ducotel daughter but who has jilted her for a rich heiress. Three guardian "angels," as the convicts turn out to be, tackle the visitors. Two of them are murderers, the third a swindler, but they have sunny natures and warm hearts and they soon set matters right—although somewhat unconventionally!

A hunting and fishing enthusiast and outdoor-lover, Andy Devine has over four hundred motion pictures to his credit. He has appeared in numerous Westerns, many with such movie greats as John Wayne. Among movie favorites are roles in "The Man Who Shot Liberty Valance," "Two Rode Together," "Geronimo," "How the West Was Won," "Buck Benny Rides Again," and "Red Badge of Courage."

Television audiences know Andy as "Jingles," the loveable sidekick of the "Wild Bill Hickok" TV series, and as one of that "Over the Hill Gang" with Walter Brennan a few seasons back. Andy also starred in his own TV series, "Andy's Gang." He played "Hap" in five episodes of "Flipper," and was featured in "Smoke" for "Walt Disney's Wonderful World of Color."

During the golden years of radio, Andy's gravel-voice was heard on such shows as "Lum and Abner" and "The Jack Benny Radio Show."

Andy Devine will appear with the support of the Texas Commission on the Arts and Humanities.

Chris Christian of Alamo Mobile Homes in Amarillo presented a check in the amount of $1,000 to the Canyon Chapter of Opportunity Plan, Inc. Accepting for the student assistance organization is Randall County Judge Woody Pond. This was the second sizeable contribution Christian has made to the fund within recent months.

Grand Jury To Meet Monday

A new grand jury for 47th District Court will be selected and a docket call held at the Randall County Courthouse Monday.

According to District Attorney George Dowlen, about five cases will be presented to the grand jury.

Judge of 47th District Court is E.E. Gene Jordan.

A WTSU student art exhibit is presently hanging at the Art Center and can be seen through April 24. CONGRATULATIONS TO THE winners in the Spring Citation Show sponsored by the Amarillo Fine Arts Association. Carl Hollabaugh won a Citation Award, and Honorable Mentions were won by Margaret Campbell, Jerri Warren, and Emily Upshaw.

Had the pleasure of meeting the judge, Sherwood Suiter of Abilene, when I ran into him and Janet Blasdel, AFAA president, in conference in Western Mall. She said, "He's having a difficult time making decisions" — an allusion to the high quality of the works on display.

The Carrizo Lodge in Ruidoso, N.M., a vacation lodge with art workshops in nearly all media, is accepting reservations for summer visitors now. She is very enthusiastic about the lodge with its relaxed, family atmosphere and fun things to do outdoors. Those interested may write Carrizo Lodge, Drawer A, Ruidoso, N.M.

Dr. and Mrs. Kohlmar have already spent 14 years there when he served as a medical missionary. WAGS will sorely miss these creative people from their circle.

Baylor Bikers To Visit City

The Second Annual Baylor Bike Cavalcade, to aid the school's Student Foundation Scholarship Fund, will visit Canyon Monday where it will be joined by at least five local Baylor supporters.

Originating in Amarillo, the group of bike riders, will stop over at A&W Root Beer on 23rd Street about 10 a.m. enroute to the Heart of Texas Coliseum in Waco for the opening of the Annual Bear Downs Bicycle Race on April 28.

Five other such bike riding, fund raising tours will originate in other major cities across the state, each ending at the race event in Waco.

Those taking part from Canyon will be team captain Dr. Dudley Moore, Bill Davis, Gene McGlasson, Dr. L. N. Boswell, and Mrs. Bob Landsey.

Each rider will pay the fund $20 for their opportunity to ride a bike a part of the way.

Last year's ride, with only one single route, and other rund raising projects provided 22 $500 scholarships and officials estimate that the enlarged bike tour this year will provide some $10,000 to be used by worthy students.

The second leg of the Panhandle tour will be Tulia, with other stops to be made at Plainview, Lubbock, Snyder, Abilene and Hamilton.

The bike riders will be followed by a crew in a motor home and it will provide a place for riders to rest and to listen to students tell of Baylor University and Bear Downs.

The Bear Downs races will see about 21 cycle teams competing for $4,000 in prizes.

Dr. Moore said it was hoped that several other Canyon residents and business people would "ride a bike for Baylor."

"BAKE AND TAKE" is the name of a community service project sponsored by the Texas Wheat Producers and the Wheat Foods Council. The purpose is to show a little extra love, thoughtfulness and remembrance to your friends, shut-ins, recipients of Meals-On-Wheels, residents of convalescent and nursing homes and to your neighbors by "baking and taking" your favorite bread, cake or cookies to them April 27 and 28.

Mrs. Larry Michael Cook, nee Susan Nash

Miss Nash, Cook United In Marriage

Miss Susan Nash and Larry Michael Cook were united in marriage in a double ring ceremony taking place Friday evening, April 20, in the Paramount Baptist Church in Amarillo. The Rev. Shad Rue officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Nash of Amarillo.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W.W. Cook of Route 1, Canyon.

The altar area was decorated with two fifteen-branch spiral candelabras bearing green tapers, and pews were marked with candles and garlands of greenery. Large arrangements of spring flowers flanked the altar.

Wedding selections played by Mrs. S.O. Izzard, organist, and sung by Ralph Gibson, soloist, included "My Cup Runneth Over," "More," and "The Wedding Prayer."

Mrs. Debbie Spivey of Amarillo was the matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Diana Foulk of Amarillo and Miss Nan Dunning, cousin of the bride, of Arlington. They wore floor-length empire gowns of pink voile and carried spring nosegays of phalanaphis orchids and stephanotis.

The best man was Charlie Batenhorst of Canyon. Groomsmen were Rick Lawhorn, cousin of the bridegroom, of Amarillo, and Randall Nash, brother of the bride, of Petersburg, Va. David Allison of Amarillo and David Richey of Canyon ushered guests. Timothy Brant Nash, brother of the bride, was candlelighter.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a formal floor-length wedding gown of angelmist peau de soie and reembroidered Venice lace over bridal taffeta designed with high rounded neckline, empire waist, long Gibson girl sleeves, and semi A-line silhouette. Inserts of lace, enhanced with satin ribbon, complimented the neckline, bodice, sleeves and waistline of the gown. Her veil of imported illusion fell from a coif, and she carried a large spring nosegay accented with pink sweetheart roses, phalanaphes orchids and stephanotis.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the fellowship hall of the church. The traditional four-tiered bride's cake and arrangements of spring flowers decorated the tables.

After a wedding trip to New Mexico, the couple will make their home in Amarillo.

Miss Rhonne Mayfield Announces Betrothal

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Mayfield, 23 Country Club Drive, have announced the engagement and forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Rhonne Elaine, to Richard Keen Stewart, 2411 6th Ave.

The prospective bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. L.L. Stewart of Pampa.

The wedding ceremony will take place in the Chapel of the First Christian Church in Amarillo on July 20.

The bride-elect graduated from Permian High School, Odessa, in 1969. She will receive her bachelor's degree from West Texas State University in May.

Miss Capers, Hughes Married In Eastland

Miss Katie Capers and Charles Allen Hughes, both of Arlington, exchanged marriage vows in a double ring ceremony taking place Saturday evening, April 21, in the Bethel Baptist Church of Eastland, Texas. The Rev. William Betts officiated before an altar decorated with Easter lilies.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E.J. Capers of Eastland.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn W. Hughes of Canyon are the parents of the bridegroom.

Selections of wedding music were played by Mrs. Flo Clark of Eastland, organist, and sung by Mrs. Katie McClellan of Muleshoe, vocalist. They included "A Time for Us," "O Perfect Love," and "We've Only Just Begun."

Mrs. Louise Reed of Arlington was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Katie McClellan and Miss Sherry Hughes, sister of the bridegroom, of Canyon. The attendants were identically attired in gowns of light pink and melon rose dotted swiss, designed with round neckline and high-rise waistline. Melon rose picture hats with ribbon trim completed their costumes.

The flower girl was Tammy Whistler of Athens, and the ring bearer was Charles Wolford of Olden.

Mike Hughes of Canyon, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Groomsmen were Kelly Keck of Eastland and Robert Reed of Arlington. The latter two and John Denton of Canyon served as ushers.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, Mr. E.J. Capers. She wore a formal bridal gown of white peau d'ange lace. The fitted bodice featured a square neckline and long sleeves. The skirt was floor length with tiers of ruffled lace falling to a chapel train from a natural waistline. Her mantilla veil was of illusion edged with lace.

with $150,000 for all of April 1972. Of the permits issued so far in April, all have been in the $20,000 range, except for one for $42,000 in Hunsley Hills.

Realtors in Canyon have described present activity in their business as varying from steady to extremely brisk. All anticipate a good season for real estate transactions.

A. L. Crossland said, "It is a little early to see definite trends in sales and turnovers. We do consider our business is steady and stable, but not booming." He added he felt it would be hard to top 1972, when he sold over half a million dollars in houses.

In a more optimistic vein, Bill Davis commented, "You talk about opportunity knocking — it really is now. We can't seem to get enough listings for the buyers. We have a tremendous business right now."

Jim Christopher commented that "it looks like a good healthy market for houses right now. There is no surplus of housing in Canyon. The starts are not yet completed and old houses are at a premium."

An even better picture for real estate sales was projected in about 30 days by Crossland. "I think we have one of the best school systems in existence anywhere, and there will be a lot of people coming into Amarillo who will want to use our school system. There is nothing equal to it."

Davis felt the industrial growth in Amarillo was already being reflected in his business. "We have more prospects now than we have had in years from people moving here from Amarillo as well as people already living here who have decided to build. We've been contacted by a few families joining the new trailer manufacturing plant."

Christopher seemed to think the time premature to attribute residential expansion in Canyon to business growth in Amarillo. He stressed that Canyon has not built up like surrounding cities in the past few years. "I think it is just now catching up."

Easter Today In Churches

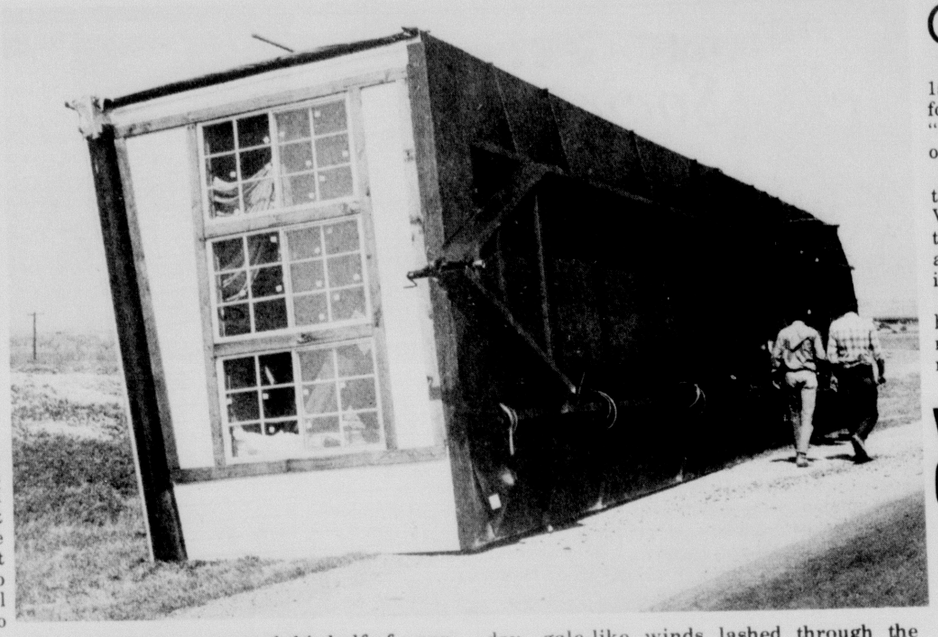
Following the special Sunrise Easter Service scheduled for Palo Duro Canyon State Park early this morning, the churches of Canyon were to observe the Resurrection Day with regular Sunday worship.

Some churches and various organizations have planned egg hunts for the children of the area.

Most churches in Canyon and the area observed the religious holiday with activities during the latter part of the week, especially Maundy Thursday and Good Friday.

On Monday, the First Presbyterian Church of Canyon will hold Pentecostal Service.

Had a party? Or giving one? Tell The Canyon News about it. Telephone 655-7121, or stop by the News office on the south side of the square.



The wind that overturned this half of a portable home just east of 15th Street on U.S. 60 Wednesday afternoon was just a preview of things to come the following day. On Thursday, gale-like winds lashed through the Canyon area with gusts up to about 100 miles-per-hour.

Gardeners Reap Return

(The following is the fifth in a series of articles on home gardening prepared from information provided by County Agent John Brazzil).

"It has been estimated that the average homeowner spends a minimum of about $50 per year on gardening and that vegetables grown in the average garden have a value of at least $100 each year. Thus home gardeners have a 100 per cent return on their investment in food alone," says John Brazzil, Randall County Extension Agent.

Aside from growing vegetables, fruit, flowers, home gardening involves direct and important improvements in the beauty, usefulness and value of residential property.

It makes living more enjoyable and provides a place where friends may be entertained with pride. Some real estate dealers estimate that landscaping and gardens may add as much as 20 per cent to the value of a home.

The peach and apricot crop around Canyon has been hard hit by freezes and weather. Some peach trees still have some late buds that may set fruit. The cherries, apples, pears, and plums are now reaching peak bloom and still have a chance to set a good crop barring another freeze.

Home gardeners can still seed cool season vegetables such as English peas, spinach, mustard greens, turnips, beets, lettuce, carrots, and radishes. Several seedings of leaf lettuce and radishes will provide salad vegetables for several weeks.

The soil temperature remains too low for summer vegetables to germinate and grow.

Early varieties of sweet corn can be seeded in late April. Gardeners should plant more than one row even if the rows are short since better pollination can be gotten.

The soil temperature in this area at this time is about 50 degrees. The correct way to measure soil temperature is to measure the temperature at the 6 to 8 inch level about 8 o'clock in the morning. When the soil temperature reads above 60 degrees for an average of a ten day interval, then summer-growing plants can be started and will grow.

Those gardeners who have tomato plants growing should not rush the season by transplanting outside as yet. They should put the transplants, which should now be in peat pots, out in the sun and protected from the wind to harden and grow strong. About May 10 will be a good time to transplant in the garden.

Many gardeners are using wire cylinders as a frame to support tomatoes. This process will be described in our next garden series.

Technical Classes Offered At AC

Courses in air-conditioning and refrigeration, automotive mechanics, diesel mechanics, welding and commercial electronics will be offered during the summer term at Amarillo College School of Vocational Arts.

Registration for the term opens May 7, said Everett Williams, dean of the school at 6222 W. 9th St.

Williams requested that students obtain an application blank to be returned to the SVA registrar's office prior to registration, adding that the blanks may be turned in the day the student registers.

New full-time students will register beginning at 9:30 a.m. and new part-time students may enroll beginning at 6:45 p.m. Students already enrolled also will register May 7 at 8 a.m. for full-time students and 6 p.m. for part-time students.

Late registration is scheduled through May 14.

Full-time welding class fee is $105 for the term, but $75 for all other full-time courses. Cost of books and tools is additional.

Tuition for the evening welding class is $65. Other half-time courses cost $50.

Students will receive certification when they complete the courses, Williams said.

The summer term will end July 29.

WT Signs High Scoring Basketball Transfer

Howard Taylor, the nation's seventh leading junior college scorer this past season, has signed a national letter of intent to play basketball at West Texas State.

The 6-2, 180-pounder is thus the first recruit signed by new West Texas State basketball coach Ron Ekker.

Taylor averaged 27.92 points per game for Northwest Junior College in Senatobia, Miss., this past year. His team won 18 and lost seven while he was scoring his 698 points and hitting 50.3 per cent of his field goal efforts.

In the regional tournament against Martin Junior College he tallied 50 points for a career high. He hit 47 points in each of the two games this past year against the Mississippi State Junior Varsity.

In addition to his scoring average, Taylor averaged 5.1 assists per game and 8.7 rebounds.

"Howard is a fine kid and extremely coachable," said Northwest coach Noel Akins. "In his quiet way, he gave us good leadership. He has the ability to hang in the air longer than any athlete I've been associated with. He flips his shots at the top of his jump. He's a complete ball player."

Taylor, who picked West Texas State over several other colleges offering him scholarships, including Tennessee Tech, is from Sardis, Miss. He graduated from North Panola High School in Sardis. He averaged 24 points per game his senior year.

In Taylor's freshman year at Northwest the team compiled a 25-5 record and won the Mississippi state championship.

Loudder of Albuquerque; two brothers, Homer of Glendale, Ariz., and Troy of Breckenridge, Tex.; and five grandchildren. Canyon City Manager George Loudder is a nephew.

The family requests that any memorials be made to favorite charities.

Canyon House "Burns" Eight Times

A new house at 1st Street and 1st Avenue may have set a record for Canyon Wednesday when it "caught fire" on eight separate occasions.

The two-bedroom structure is the latest addition to the Canyon Volunteer Fire Department's training field at that location, and Wednesday night was put to its initial test.

After the last flicker of flame had been extinguished by firemen, the building was still intact, ready for future training use.

According to Lt. Tommy Platt of the department, teams of three men each took turns putting out diesel-fed fires in various parts of the house.

"Everybody got a chance to try out their skills," said Platt.

Deputy Chief Joe Rice termed the trial runs a success, adding that the house "worked as well as we had expected. We think it will be a real asset."

Some 35 members of the volunteer department took part in the Wednesday night practice sessions.

The house, which also offers an attached garage, was built by firemen in their spare time at a cost of about $1,000. It is made of cinder blocks and has a sheet steel ceiling to protect the wooden roof from flames.

WTSU Chorale On TV Today

The West Texas State University Chorale will be featured on KVII-TV, Channel 7, today at 12:30 p.m. when they present "Music of Easter."

Hugh Sanders, director of the Chorale, said the 30-minute program was taped April 9 just before students began the spring vacation.

Presented will be eight or ten Easter musical selections.

measures with which he has at times taken issue.

"They still do not have a workable sanity clause," he said.

The district attorney did say that he was optimistic that a revised death penalty bill would get before the house sometime next week. Other matters delayed action on the death penalty and it was not presented earlier as scheduled.

The death penalty statute was omitted from the Penal Code to allow the house and senate to act on it as a separate item.

Dowlen, speaking of the sanity clause, cited the possibility that it would be handled through amendments to be presented before the house and senate.

"The main thing about my trip to Austin was in regard to the salary bill," said Dowlen. "It would save us a good sum of money."

the flying conglomeration.

On Thursday, the wind gave area residents a slight hint of things to come when it built up enough steam to disarrange several small loose items and to overturn an in-transit mobile home on U.S. 60 just east of 15th Street.

"If it didn't blow over, down or away Friday, you shouldn't have to worry about next time," said one Canyon resident of more than 50 years.

After a week and one day off for Easter vacation, students in the Canyon Independent School District will return to classes Tuesday.

School officials said classes will resume at their regular times on that day.

West Texas State University will also resume normal schedules on Tuesday.

Measures Insure Safe Boating

Spring's balmy weather drives millions of Texans on a hasty exodus to water.

But there is such a thing as being too hasty, warns Texas Parks and Wildlife Department officials. Being in too much of a hurry could bring disaster, especially if you use a boat for recreation.

For example, take a little time while fueling. Avoid spills. Extinguish cigarettes, cigars and pipes. Alternate the addition of gas and oil, keeping the gas nozzle grounded against the tank.

Evaluate your load. For balance, speed and safety, the load should be distributed evenly from bow to stern and side to side. And don't forget, your load includes you, your passengers, your motor and any extra gear. Each boat has a plate which states the maximum capacity which can be carried.

The number of seats in a boat does not mean that the same number of passengers can go for a ride. The seats are there to permit a variety of seating arrangements for even distribution of weight.

Don't beat a hasty retreat from the dock until you know that all the required safety equipment is on board and in good working order. This means a life preserver for each person on board, a fire extinguisher, proper lights and a horn or whistle.

It's also a good idea to have on hand an anchor, fenders, flashlight, some line, a gas can, a bilge pump, a first aid kit, a paddle and a tool kit.

Take a little time to consider the safe operation of your boat. A little common sense goes a long way safety-wise, and you and your passengers will be around for the next outing.

School Board Not To Meet This Tuesday

The Canyon School Board will not meet Tuesday night due to the trustees holding only one meeting in the month of April.

OPI Alum Letters Featured In Folder

Just off the press for The Opportunity Plan, Inc., is a bright orange, black and white brochure, captioned, "Dear Mr. Morris,. . ."

Spotlighted in the publicity folder are letters from and pictures of OPI alumni. The letters are actual reproductions, and are typical of the loyalty and appreciation expressed by hundreds of students who have received educational assistance from Milton "Buff" Morris' brain-child.

One of the former students whose letter and picture appear is M. Kirk Walters, son of Mr. and Mrs. L.B. Walters, 1109 7th Ave., Canyon. A certified public accountant with the firm of Peat, Marwick, Mitchell, CPA's in Amarillo, Walters and his wife, the former Gail Sargent, graduated from WTSU in 1963. Both had been sponsored by The Opportunity Plan, Inc.

They temporarily reside, with their two children, Jeffrey and Melanie, at Canyon Creek Apartments.

The new OPI folder, which is to be widely circulated, is also easily identified by its new logo: a silhouette of man upholding, encircling and reaching for the letters "OPI."

Further included are a brief outline of the functions of The Opportunity Plan, Inc., its history, the manner of contributing to the Plan, and Morris' picture.

The Opportunity Plan, Inc., originated and directed by Morris at West Texas State University, is a non-profit plan which has made it possible for more than 3,400 students to attend post-secondary schools. There are no rigid requirements for receiving its assistance; it lends interest-free money, and gives confidence, counseling and assurance to its students. Its only source of funds is tax-deductible contributions.

A Canyon Division of OPI was formed last spring and is currently sponsoring three students at WTSU: Mrs. Dorothy Keith, Mrs. Hazel Hawthorne, and Michael LaGrone.

The tri-color brochure now in distribution was designed by Mrs. Korkye Martin, public relations director for OPI in Canyon.

More Yosen Works Coming To WTSU

Prince Yosen of Japan, considered one of that country's five top artists, is expected to be in Canyon Thursday to present three more of his works to the Panhandle-Plains Museum.

Boone McClure of the museum said the artist's arrival had been planned to coincide with the annual banquet and meeting of the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society but the postponement of the banquet would not affect the prince's schedule.

The museum now has five large works done by the prince and over the years expects to receive several more, said McClure.

Paintings now at the museum are extremely large, measuring about eight by 40 feet.

Beta Sigma Phi Founders Day To Be Celebrated

The Canyon Chapters of Beta Sigma Phi will celebrate the 42nd Anniversary of the organization's founding April 28, 1973, at 7 p.m. A banquet in which Xi Kappa Zeta, Chi Upsilon, and Alpha Theta Delta chapters will join for the occasion will be held at Sutphen's Barbecue.

Forty-two years ago, the first chapter of the sorority was formed in Abilene, Kansas. There are now approximately 10,500 chapters and 250,000 members in the United States, Canada, twenty-three foreign countries and territories.

In addition to the banquet, traditional ceremonies will be observed. The history of local chapters will be reviewed and the new members will receive their first welcome to membership.

Mrs. Lucille Robinson is serving as chairman of the Founder's Day Banquet. The Toastmistress for the evening is Mrs. Linda Conway. Other members who will have a part in the program are Mmes. Jean Irwin, Marj Sharp, Ann Wygant, Mary Alice Hines, and Ann Cornelius. Virginia Grimes has been selected for the honor of presenting a special message from the sorority's president. The message from the International Headquarters in Kansas City will be the central event of the evening and the culmination of the program.

Ladies Golf To Organize

Canyon Ladies Golf Association will organize for the season at a meeting set for 10 a.m., Tuesday, April 24, at the Canyon Country Club.

A series of four golf lessons for beginners will begin Tuesday with Dude Kinkade, golf pro, as the instructor. Members of Canyon Ladies Golf Association are eligible for the free golf lessons by paying the $3 annual dues. Non-members may take them by paying green fees of $1.50.

All women who want to play golf are invited to join the Association, according to Mrs. Ernestine Harp, president. They may arrange for the lessons by calling her or the club pro, Mr. Kinkade. High school girls are especially encouraged to take advantage of the beginners' lessons.

The classes will be made up of groups of five women. Those scheduled for 9 and 10 a.m. and 5:30 p.m. are already full, said Mrs. Harp, but additional classes can be arranged at 11 a.m. or 6:30 p.m.

Every Tuesday is Ladies Day at Canyon Country Club, and the Ladies' Golf Association holds a covered dish luncheon at noon followed by business meeting on the first Tuesday of every month.

Mrs. Harp said that on Ladies Day women usually compete for play of the day for nine holes in groups of three or four of matched abilities. Many then play nine more holes for pleasure.

"Mother's Day Out" Is Popular With Mom And Tots

No matter how pleasant the work, everyone needs a day off occasionally.

Especially a mother. Her role is a round-the-clock, year in and year out job.

"Mother's Day Off," a program of child care sponsored by the First United Methodist Church, began last fall as an answer to such a need.

The project was feasible for the church to handle. They already had rooms—large, homey church school rooms with plenty of the kind of toys and play equipment that appeals to small tots.

And the church had the staff, headed by Miss Mattie Sue Howell, director of education, willing and able to cope with telephone calls, record keeping, and overall responsibility.

But, most important of all, the church had access to the services of Mrs. Walter Kirkpatrick as supervisor for the children. A grandmother of three herself, she has had 20 years of experience in caring for children. Not only was she reliable, but really enjoyed "tending to" the youngsters.

"The little ones call it 'their school' and love it" said Mattie Sue Howell. "We feel it is an opportunity to help young children. First of all, they find a church is a good place to be. And they also have a chance to play with other children, an experience some of them do not otherwise have."

"Mother's Day Out" is scheduled nearly every Friday, 9:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. The charge is nominal so that as many mothers as possible will find it within their budget to take advantage of. The charge for the full time is $2 for one child, $2.75 for two children, and $3.25 for three. Children may be left for part of that time also.

Mothers bring a sack lunch of finger foods for each child who is to have a meal at the church. They are also asked to bring a mat for the child to rest on after lunch for a brief while.

"Mother's Day Out" does not encourage mothers to casually drop children off for spur-of-the-moment shopping excursions.

"We ask them to call 655-3540 by 4:30 p.m. of Thursday afternoon and let us know if they are planning to bring children in on Friday," said Miss Howell. "Or sometimes we simply mark on a child's card that he will be here regularly every Friday.

"It is very important, too," continued the church education director, "that a mother notify us by 8 a.m. Friday if she finds that she has changed her plans and will not be bringing her child."

Knowing ahead of time how many children to expect helps Mrs. Kirkpatrick plan her day. She often calls in girls to assist her in caring for the children—which number about 25 as a general rule.

"There are times when we have been surprised," said Mrs. Kirkpatrick, who added that she called in mothers, sitters or even Miss Howell when an unexpected number showed up. They also step in at rare moments, like the one recently when Mrs. Kirkpatrick had to suddenly take her husband in to a hospital in Amarillo.

In the church school rooms the small fry find all sorts of inviting and challenging play equipment and toys. There are trucks, blocks, a slide, a "rocking boat" that holds four, cupboards with dishes and pans, many sizes and shapes of dolls, books, crayons, balls, and tables and chairs just the right size for the preschoolers.

"Mr. Eugene Bond's Boy Scout troop recently refinished some of the boats and toys," said Mrs. Kirkpatrick.

Started only on a safe hunch that a "Mother's Day Out" center would have appeal for Canyon mothers of small children, the project will probably carry on for some time.

"Some of the mothers have said they would be glad to work one day a month if we would just continue this. They think this is one of the finest things we have in Canyon," said Mattie Sue Howell.

Children enjoy "Mother's Day Out" under the supervision of Mrs. Walter Kirkpatrick at First United Methodist Church. The children, l. to r., are Guinevere and Vanessa Cole, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Cole, and Richard and Michael Carlson, sons of Mrs. Ernest Carlson.

Anglers Reminded Of Fish Law

Heading for the old fishing hole?

Yes, indeed, there is nothing like a little fishing to set your mind straight and add a little fresh fish to the family freezer.

Parks and Wildlife Department law enforcement officials remind springtime anglers of a common fishing violation which could spoil an outing and make for some expensive fish.

Got a valid fishing license?

Current laws require everyone between the ages of 17 and 65 to have a license to fish in Texas waters. This includes coastal waters out to a limit of 10 1/3 miles.

Exemptions are persons under 16 years of age and over 65 and county residents fishing in their home counties with cane poles, trotlines and throwlines.

A license is necessary no matter how you fish if you are between 17 and 65 and leave your home county to fish.

"Living Classroom" Slated For Canyon Schools

Within the near future, Canyon schools hope to be able to offer students an outdoor "living classroom" where they can study the wonders of nature first-hand.

A committee has been named to investigate the feasibility of such a classroom and to plan its construction. The project would be designed to aid in the teaching of the sciences, especially at the elementary and junior high school level.

The committee includes Dave Corley, principal of Canyon Junior High School; Leonard Kent, science teacher at the high school; Bob Green, science teacher at the junior high school; and James Prock, science teacher at Rex Reeves Elementary School.

The committee is working with soil conservationist John O'Conner and County Agent John Brazzil. The land and agriculture experts are expected to supply ideas and help with the planning, said one committee member.

According to present plans, the facility will be built near the high school just north of the bus barn. Corley said original plans had been to build it at the junior high school but after other teachers became enthused about the project, it was decided to change locations.

"The area at the high school is much better suited for the project," said Corley. He said the area there offered much more in the way of natural vegetation from which to begin construction.

Natural vegetation will be left intact with other aspects added, said Corley. This possibly will include a small pond where students can study the basic marine life.

Gullies now present at the site will allow youngsters to study soil layers.

Corley said the committee is now studying a contour map of the site and is plotting other needs. The plan calls for trails and benches to be used in group study.

"It will give the students a chance to study the animals, weeds and insects of the area," said Corley. "I think it will be a great addition to our program," he added.

Prock said he thought such a facility "would be nice for children to see the natural habitat of wildlife and native plants." The science teacher added that it will "be great in teaching them to recognize and appreciate conservation. An outdoor classroom takes the students out to where the action is."

Corley said the committee will soon inspect outdoor classrooms in the area to get ideas for the one to be built in Canyon. One such facility is located in Dalhart, said Corley.
